11th September 2017

Dear parent(s)

Monday, 8th January 2018

As you are aware the School operates a system whereby the governors give five additional days of holiday in recognition of staff participation in extra-curricular activities, that they support for the benefit of pupils, throughout the year. The fifth day had not been allocated and so I am writing to inform you of when this will be.

Having consulted widely with staff on the allocation of this day it has been decided that we will not take it in November, as in previous years, but will instead add it to the end of the Christmas holiday. This means that pupils will now return to School on Tuesday, 9th January and not Monday 8th January as advertised. There will now be a training day for staff on Monday 8th January and not Friday 5th January as stated on the term dates calendar.

If you have already printed out the calendar I would urge you to change it so that your child is not arriving at School on the Training Day.

Thank you for your support; it allows us to maintain the excellent activities and visits that are such an important part of life at the School.

Yours sincerely

Richard Langton
